Desert Lizards.

There is no place like the desert for lizards. As a man rides through the white sands or over the black malapai untains in Arizona or southeastern California and sees the flash and scurry of these brilliant and graceful creatures the suggestion of death and solltude is broken, and, beholding so much life, he is brought to wonder if the pentry is really a desert or only a land to which a man is not adapted, for here are animals which never drink, yet frisk about through thorns and cactus and fatten on the bitter plants. Many a desert prospector had lain down with his burros to die and seen on the rocks about him the black heads of the chuckwalla lizards outlined against the brazen sky. The chuckwallas were happy and corpulent with good enting. It was their country. For thousands of generations their an-cestors had never thirsted for water, and plants which the starving burros passed by furnished both food and drink for the scaly natives on the rocks. Next to the slow moving and deadly Gila monster the chuckwalla is the largest lizard of the desert, being from a foot to a foot and a half in length.-Country Life In America.

How Snakes Fascinate.

The cobra of the Cape fascinates birds by coiling itself on a branch, erecting its head and swinging to and fro. Sundowner states that the snake will go on "fascinating" and keeping the bird twittering and unable to leave the tree in which it is "for hours" and that if the bird is driven away it comes that if the bird is driven away it comes back. This may be a "yarn," but from the curious fascination which nonter-rifying objects, such as "lark glitters," have for some birds and their apparent inability to resist hovering around the lure the far greater mesmerizing power of the serpent may be conjectured. Movement, more or less regular, is al-ways part of the means of fascination employed by snakes. Their fondness for music of any kind is not extended to the sound of the human voice sing-· ing, which snakes clearly do not appreciate at all. They only care for "in-strumental music," which includes the concerting, tomtom and Jew's harp. But from experiments made in this country it was evident that they like the bagpipes best.-Spectator.

Brought Down From Heaven.

According to Mohammedan bellef, the first copy of the Koran, or Alkoran, their sacred book, was brought down from the highest to the lowest heaven by Gabriel on the mysterious night of Al Khade in the month of Ramadan. This wonderful book, written in heaven and bound in satin, jewels and gold, was communicated to Moham-med at different times during a period of twenty-three years. This was done, according to Mohammedan bellef, ei-ther by Gabriel in human shape or by God himself. When Gabriel acted as translator and communicator, he did so "with a great sound of music and bells." God appeared either "veiled or unveiled during Mohammed's waking hours or during dreams at night."

Virginia's Only Slave.

The state of Virginia once owned a slave, the only one probably the commonwealth ever did own. He was known as Ben the Bell Ringer of the University of Virginia. The university only had $200 left over when it was adowed, and it was proposed to buy a negro with this amount and keep him as a bell ringer. They bought Ben, and is his time he became a great character at the university. He knew everybody and was very useful to everybody. Ben used to get very drunk on the liberal and constant fees he received from students. He died in the Albemarle poorhouse at an advanced

A Lark's Lofty Flight.

Some Bavarian officers experimenting with a balloon 6,000 feet aloft noticed a little black speck that seemed to accompany them and which, they thought, was one of the cards they car ried for throwing out reports and that the dropping of the balloon drew it along, but on looking at the barometer they found that the balloon was rising and not dropping. Suddenly, however, a loud chirping showed that it was a lark which, flying at this extraordinary height, had been frightened by the bal

The Highest Waterfall.

There is in Mexico a wonderful waterfall, which probably enjoys the distinction of being the highest waterfall in the world. The fall is known by the Indian name of Basaseachic and is located about 190 miles west of the city of Chihuahua, near the summit of the Sierra Madre mountains. The eleva-tion of the mountain is 6,500 feet above sea level. The cascade falls 978 feet.

A Mighty Serious Thing "You printed my death notice, and that's no joke." " "But, my dear sir, that's not my fault. It's the fact that you are alive that makes it no joke." There was a subtleness to this that made it most annoyingly puzzling .-

A NEW REMEDY.

The old friends of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be pleased to know that the manufacturers of that preparation have gotten out a new remedy called Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and that it is meeting with much success in the treatment of constipation biliousness, sick headache, impaired di-gestion and like disorders. These Tablets are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills, then they not only move the bowels, but improve the ap-petite and correct any disorders of the omach and liver. ### MISS MONIE BOWEY. DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A couple of winters ago I slipped on a frozen sidewalk and fell flat on my back. On being examined I found that I had sustained internal injuries which laid me upfor more than two months. After that I noticed that I had pains in the back and groin which I never had before. I doctored and doctored for several months but as the pains increased instead of growing better I decided that I was not having the right treatment. Reading in the papers
